And my only wish, that burn clear while

Robert J. Schooley

1895 — 1946

They lead us forth
From the windowless rooms,
Where our minds in fetters lay,
That we might see the stars
And know the light of day.

R I A M

torches I kindled am gone.

Charles G. Hornaday

1893 — 1946

Wearied by the work
They so gladly sought,
They've now lain down
To sleep a little time
Before another day.

Foreword

This year we have chosen an Indian theme for the Follies. This theme is in memory of the Indians, who roamed our state long before the white people ever thought of teaching school in the City of Auburn, Indiana. The following poem was written by an alumnus of Auburn High especially for this publication.

Today the councils of the elders sit
Pondering what course to take,
Among groves of pine and lofty fir,
Near the shores of a farflung lake.

Now deep in thought, grave they sit in silence,
Now much with solemn words they speak,
As the wise gods in heaven ponder long
Before in argument they speak.

For upon their words depend now their fates,
And fates of tribes weak and strong.

President Husselman. Mr. E. A. Husselman is completing his second term as a member of the Auburn School Board. His fine character and successful monument business assures us of having a capable man to fill this position. Mr. Husselman is interested in young people, and many students have been fortunate in making his acquaintance while he has served on the school board.

Secretary Armstrong. Mr. D. K. Armstrong is serving a second term as member of the Auburn School Board. For a number of years Mr. Armstrong has been established in Auburn as a leading merchant. Having had two children educated in our local system, he carries the students' interests with him to the board.

Treasurer McIntyre. Mr. H. C. McIntyre is serving his first term as a member of the Auburn School Board. Being a lifelong resident of Auburn, a graduate of Auburn High School, and president of the Auburn Burner Corporation, Mr. McIntyre is sympathetic and well acquainted with our local educational system and very capable of being a member of the board of education.

I V E S

Superintendent McKenney is the executive officer of our school system, and he carries out and puts into action the wishes and policies of the school board. Mr. McKenney started out in Auburn as a mathematics instructor. As the years have gone by and his responsibilities have increased, Mr. McKenney has always been willing to devote longer hours of hard work toward the betterment of the Auburn City Schools.

Principal Miller leads numerous students in their daily tasks. As these students go through Auburn High School, they find they have a true friend in Mr. Miller. He is always ready to listen to your ambitions and tries to get you started on the right foot. Anyone that works with Mr. Miller can readily see that his job is an unending one.

Carma Patee carries out the various duties that fall upon Mr. Kenney's office girl. The students hope to see her again next year.

Emma Stebing is the one you will find in Mr. Miller's office doing everybody's odd jobs along with her own. The students find her indispensable.

Biology

Biology is the general study of animals and plants. This year the freshmen were instructed by Mr. Gross, a war veteran.

Physics

In the picture on the left you see the future atom physicists, but you will also notice that it is not all work and no play.

Mathematics

The importance of higher mathematics has been proven in the last few years. This year's mathematic schedule included general arithmetic, first year algebra, plane geometry, trigonometry, and advanced algebra.

S E S

Junior Business

Sophomores get their first taste of business. Mr. Gump serves it up with garnish.

Civics

The workings of democracy can not be carried out unless the people are educated to its intricacies. This is the purpose of our civics course.

English Literature

In preparation for college this subject is very essential. It gives everyone a better understanding of literature and a brush up course in grammar.

Typing

No matter what phase of life you enter here is one subject that will be of use to you. Typing finds not only an important place in business, but also in college and even in your personal correspondence.

Industrial Arts

Practical application in the use of blue prints and mechanical drawings is part of the vocational training for the shop boys. Our hopes are for a shop to be built on the high school grounds.

Home Economics

Future home makers of America receive their preliminary training. Their knowledge of sewing, cooking and budgeting will help make more homes and families happy.

Art

Art is one of the main springs in the development of our culture. In their first floor class room, students find a new perspective of nature, line, color, and beauty.

Commercial Group

The best of the business majors are pictured on the right. These students have excelled in every thing from shorthand and bookkeeping to typing and advanced business.

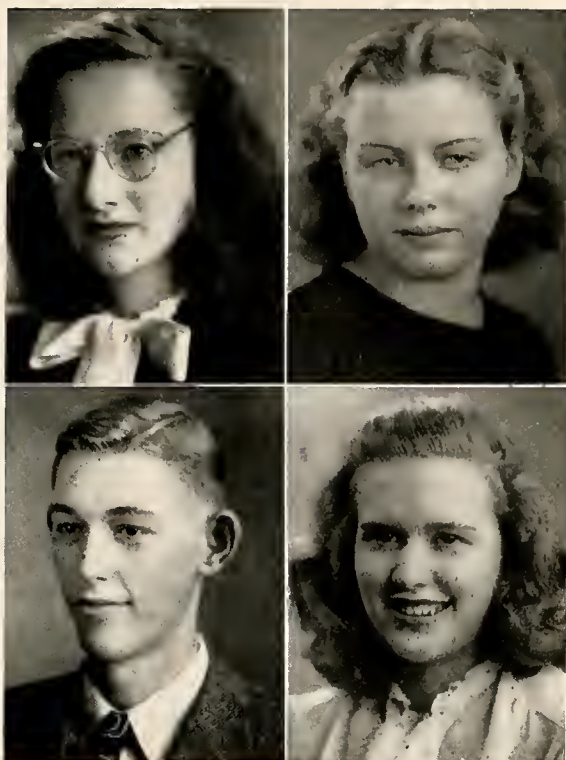

Librarians

The librarians' knack for finding reference volumes has been invaluable to many puzzled students. Miss Dawson has also miraculously kept track of all the books and magazines.

"Ed's" ideal person is Edward Yoder. The teachers of Auburn High School seem to save the best until the last because they always put his name down last in their grade books.

P A S T F O U R Y E A R S .

May 23, 1947, marked the end of twelve long years of study. We remember many things that have happened during our journey through the grades, junior high, and high school. A great foundation has been laid, and upon this foundation we are to build our lives. In a way we are beginning to look upon our teachers as the potters who have delicately shaped our thoughts. We have looked forward to this day very eagerly, but now that it is here, we hate to say, GOOD-BYE!

Senior Class

Four short years ago these proud seniors were bewildered "greenies." The once-confused freshmen have survived four years of high school that were, after all, quite enjoyable. As the highest class in Auburn High, they took over the student management with much confidence. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Showalter, they chose James Donaldson, president; Norman Gearhart, vice president; Herbert Wertman, secretary, and Wayne Muzzillo, treasurer. Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Hamman acted as class mothers.

The class of '47 had outstanding athletes on the gridiron, on the hardwood, and on the cinders. The senior lettermen were R. Armstrong, G. Beaty, R. Chorpensing, W. Muzzillo, V. Palumbo, R. Shugart, H. Wertman. Other adept athletes were D. Carmer, R. Derrow, R. Snyder, and W. Watson. One from this class, Vito Palumbo, had the honor to be chosen guard on the All-State team by the Indianapolis News sports staff.

The students with the highest scholastic rating for their past four years are Jane Schooley, Sally Beerbower, Donald Mefford, and Mary Kessler.

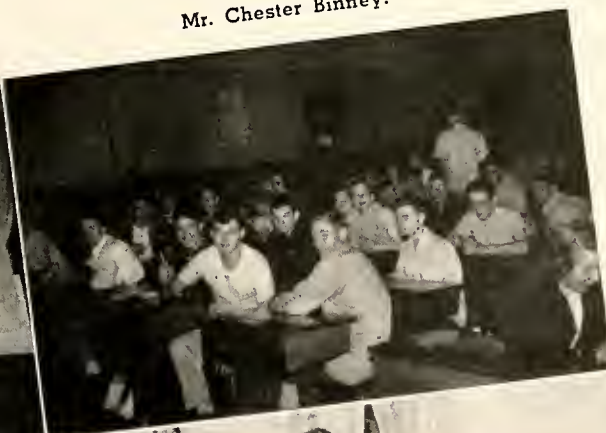

Several seniors have received recognition in other fields. Ervin Patrick was chosen Hi-Y district treasurer at the fall Hi-Y conference. Donald Mefford was elected state secretary of the Indiana Hi-Y. This was the first time Auburn had been represented in the state organization. Donald also was chosen district president. Jane Schooley was one of the 160 Indiana high school girls who were selected by the American Legion to participate in the mock-legislative program in connection with the study of Indiana civil government. She was elected state representative.

Now the faculty of A.H.S. has decided that the class of '47, after four years of the best in high school education, is sufficiently prepared for the job of citizenship.

Juniors

The class of '48 has studied three years within the portals of Auburn High School and now finds itself on the threshold of its final year.

At the executive desk for the third consecutive year was Fred Butler. The other officers were William Cox, vice president; Jack Thomas, secretary; and Ronald Brown, treasurer. Mr. Young was the sponsor, and Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Martin were the class mothers.

From this body of students have developed these lettermen: J. Bower, R. Brown, W. Boyd, F. Butler, W. Cox, L. Davis, G. Glass, J. Kleeman, R. Manor, R. Martin, B. Olinger, D. Rohm, R. Scott, R. Seigel, D. Smolinske, J. Thomas. Other outstanding athletes were R. Blevins, H. Carmer, K. Edsall, I. Rhoads, G. Rodecap, and D. Sink.

Scholastic honors were awarded to Joan Garns, Alice Kieffer, Suzanne Weathers, Richard Seigel, Betty Haggarty and Carole Heffley.

After making the grade as juniors, this group is now ready to tackle the all-important job, being seniors.

Sophomores

The wise (sophos) fools (moros) of Auburn's great institution of learning have climbed rapidly to reach the exclusive haven reserved to upperclassmen. This climb was made easier by the boost which they received from those they chose to lead them. The class officers were James Schooley, president; Don Derrow, vice president; Jayne Burgoyne, secretary; and Bob Kokenge, treasurer. The class sponsor was Miss Russell, and Mrs. Weinert and Mrs. Butler were the class mothers.

The sophomore lettermen were D. Butler, D. Derrow, W. Geiser, J. Lochner, and C. Myers. Other outstanding athletes were R. Bates, O. Brown, R. Crooks, G. Delucenay, G. Dickerson, S. Feagler, G. Goings, W. Houtzer, R. Kessler, R. Kokenge, T. Magnuson, K. McInturf, D. Messenger, W. Michael, W. Openlander, E. Patrick, J. Quinlan, J. Schooley, C. Shoudel, R. Smith, L. Stump, and W. Weinert.

Scholastic awards were given to James Schooley, Mary Bullock, Jack Lochner, Elizabeth Carper, and Kathleen Gerig.

A.H.S. novices are over their first hurdle. These "papooses in green diapers" have shown the ability to hold their own against the overwhelming odds of upperclassmen. With great pride they now don the garb of sopomores.

Looks like the girls will go hungry.

Freshmen

The class of '50 elected a very capable staff of officers. Theo Webb was president; Max Reynolds, vice-president; Russel McComb, secretary; and Hugh Western, treasurer. The class sponsor was Miss Dawson, and the class mothers were Mrs. Little and Mrs. Timbrook.

The freshmen already have one letterman, Max Reynolds, to their credit. Other outstanding athletes were B. Beers, R. Freeman, P. Gillespie, J. Hamilton, J. Hildebrandt, D. Kelley, R. Lochner, R. McComb, T. Miller, J. Mochamer, S. Muzzillo, D. Ransburg, J. Renner, J. Smith, J. Swalley, T. Webb, R. Wertenberger, and H. Western.

Scholastic honors went to Roberta Little, Retha Manon, Joyce Nugen, and Ted Miller.

With this commendable beginning the freshman class should graduate with high honors in both scholastic and extra-curricular activities.

School Life

SEPTEMBER

- 3—Beware the ides of September. Innocent boys and girls with despairing looks march slowly along with huge stacks of books. The time has come, they say, for all good children to return to serious thinking, studies, and winter fun.
- 4—Food for the football games was the major problem of the juniors this evening after school. To take immediate charge, they elected Fred Butler, president; William Cox, vice president; Jack Thomas, secretary; and Ronald Brown, treasurer.
- 5—The seniors got together at four o'clock tonight. Male leaders were the watchword as they elected James Donaldson, president; Norman Gearhart, vice president; Herbert Wertman, secretary, and Wayne Muzzillo, treasurer.
- 6—The sophomores got under way officially with the election of James Schooley, president; Don Derrow, vice president; Jayne Burgoyne, secretary; and Robert Kokenge, treasurer. The football season opened for Auburn tonight at Earl Carr Memorial Field with an N.E.I.C. game. The Red Devils showed their heels to the Columbia City eleven to the tune of 39-12.
- 12—Again the boys take hold. This time in the freshman class. Grasping the reins are Theo Webb, president; Max Reynolds, vice president; Russell McComb, secretary; and Hugh Western, treasurer.
- 13—It was a tough fight, but we won. Again on the home field, we played an N.E.I.C. thriller with Warsaw. Score: Auburn 24, Warsaw 20.
- 17—Minds wander, eyelids droop, and the fair's in town.
- 20—At home again, we had an easy victory over Decatur for our third straight conference win. The "A," "B," "C," and even Mr. Showalter's team, played for a 52-7 win.
- 27—At home or away, the victories seem to be ours. Tonight the Bluffton eleven was taken by the Red Devils over the hurdles for another conference win. Score: Auburn 13, Bluffton 7.

OCTOBER

- 4—They did it again! In the last home game of the season, Auburn's pride and joy, the gridiron warriors, came through with another typical victory. Hartford City Airdales, 7; Auburn Red Devils, 38.
- 11—The Bryan Bears felt the impact of the Red Devils on a muddy field. Maybe the mud softened the 32-12 defeat for the Bears.
- 15—Why do we have a Y? Solicitors for the annual drive will be around soon to answer that question and to receive your donations.
- 18—The freshmen were welcomed into the ranks of members at the Freshman Reception. A good time was had by all.

- 19—Another victory! New Haven joined the ranks of disappointed teams when Auburn came in for the long end of a 40-0 victory.
- 22—We came, we saw, we conquered — Garrett. Score: 25-19. The 1946 football season is complete with an undefeated team and the N.E.I.C. championship. Not bad at all.
- 25-26—Beware the stampede! Teachers are going to get their annual instruction at the Teachers' Association and we get the vacation.

NOVEMBER

- 1—The winter social season got under way with a sophomore "shindig." The highlight of the evening was the refreshments. The clean-up committee had a wonderful time.
- 7—Calling all girls! Calling all girls! The Hi-Y boys are in town! Man all police cars! the man hunt is on! This year's district president, Don Mefford, and the sponsor, Mr. Weathers, provided an interesting program for the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs.
- 12—Our first speaker made his appearance before the assembly. Mr. C. A. Boger gave us an interesting talk on art and artists. The Y clubs also had the honor of hearing Mr. Boger at a special program at the Methodist Church.
- 14-15—The critics raved, and the audiences were enthralled. A talented and star-studded cast of juniors and seniors put on a classic masterpiece under the guidance of the famous woman director, producer, and writer, Miss Norton. We made money, too.
- 16—Hoosier Hysteria reigns as king. The Red Devils start the season with a 42-34 victory over the Butler Windmills.
- 22—The Central Catholic Irish felt the power of the Red Devils. The first home game was witnessed by a capacity crowd. Score: 38-32.
- 23—The Red Devils returned from Wabash in a blaze of glory. In the last minute rally the Auburn varsity made 12 points to put us on top of a 44-40 score.
- 25—The freshmen really entered into the swing of things with a party. The same evening the '46 annuals were distributed. Local doctors were kept busy for several days treating writer's cramp.
- 27—We returned from a long trip to Muncie on the short end of a 51-38 score. Muncie Central proved that they will be a team to watch around tourney time.
- 28—Ah! Another vacation! There was plenty of turkey for one and all. Well, it was nice while it lasted (both the turkey and the vacation).
- 30—The last day in November proved to be a successful day for the basketball team. After their first defeat of the season, the Red Devils came back strong over Angola. Score: 47-43.

DECEMBER

- 4—Vito Palumbo took honors today for his astonishing ability in playing football. The Indianapolis News staff had a dinner for the "All-State Football Team." Vito was chosen by the sports staff of the News as an all-state guard, and he and "Zeke" were guests at the banquet held in Indianapolis.
- 9—Come one, come all! The P.T.A. had an open house this evening. The parents followed the students' schedules and went to classes.
- 12—The P.T.A. is really going to town with activities this year. Tonight at its meeting, plans were made for an ice-skating rink in Auburn.
Tonight the hard-hitting freshman basketball team won 31 to 12 in a game with the Butler freshmen.
- 13—The last bell rings and the mad rush is on. Season basketball tickets are on sale for the students and everyone.
- 14—Today was the day for a thrilling basketball game. Auburn and New Haven played a see-saw thriller. At the end of the first quarter New Haven had 10 to our 16, at the half it was Auburn's turn with 21 to 20, and at the third quarter it was still Auburn 27 to 26. Finally the game ended, giving our Auburn team 39 to New Haven's 35.
- 19—The big game of the year with Auburn and Garrett battling, was tonight. The Railroaders won by only one point. The score was 37 to 36.
- 21—School is about half over, and everyone is thrilled, for today starts the Christmas vacation.

JANUARY

- 1—The Red Devils traveled to Huntington to take part in a New Year Day tourney. Huntington was given a run for its basketball in the first game of the afternoon, winning by only six points. The consolation game in the evening proved to be an easy victory for the Red Devils over a demoralized Wabash team. Score: 39-26.
- 2—Open those drooping eyelids! Yes, vacation is over, and it's back to the same old grind.
- 10—This was truly an eventful day in the lives of Auburn High scholars. The students and faculty were stirred, roused, and thoroughly awakened by the enlightening lecture of Miss Getta Sereny, former Hungarian actress and U.N.R.R.A. staff officer. The interesting talk on conditions in Europe was followed by a moderately heated discussion of current internal and external problems of the United States. The same evening a large group of fans followed the team to the South Side Gym to watch a high scoring game with the Central Tigers. Score: Central, 60; Auburn, 52.
- 11—A strong Elkhart team proved to be too much for the Red Devils in the Alumni Gym. Final score: 38-28.

- 17—Hopes for the conference soared again as a strong Kendallville team was defeated by a supposedly weaker Auburn team in a thrilling seesaw game at K-ville. Score: 35-34.
- 24—The Warsaw Tigers saw a big first half on the Alumni floor, and managed to come through with a conference win in spite of a strong last minute rally by the Red Devils. Score: 34-32.
- 27—Indianapolis was honored by a visit from the seniors. A chartered bus contained not only forty-one civics students and Mr. Weathers, but also Mr. Ralph Jackson, to whom we give humble thanks for getting us home safely.
- 30—A dreadful calamity! A big ice storm closed school for two days. We feel so badly!
- 31—January went out in a whirl of glory for the Red Devils. After staving off a last minute rally by the Decatur Yellowjackets, we came up on the long end of a 43-39 conference tilt.

FEBRUARY

- 3—Unfortunately the Mishawaka last minute rally was successful. Using a zone defense, the Red Devils had built up a big lead in the first half only to lose in the last quarter, 34 to 30.
- 8—The 47 to 40 defeat by the Columbia City Eagles left Auburn out of the running for the N.E.I.C. championship which it won last year.
- 14—Students from the speech class presented a very interesting and thought-provoking program in honor of Lincoln's birthday.
- 14—For the first time in years, the Hartford City Airedales defeated the Auburn five. Revenge must be sweet. Score: 46-36.
- 17—George Caraker, an American raised in South Africa and educated in English schools, gave us a good view of South Africa in his Oxford accent. After the assembly program and for the rest of the day he appeared in the classrooms to answer questions.
- 21—George Washington was honored in an assembly program presented by the speech class.
- 21—The Auburn-Bluffton game resulted in a 35-32 victory for the Red Devils. The victory places them in a four-way tie for third place in the N.E.I.C. conference. The other three teams in the tie are Bluffton, Garrett, and Columbia City.
- 22—In the last game of the season with Fort Wayne North Side, the Red Devils were only two points behind with 25 seconds to play. Two desperate shots by the Redskins saved the game for them, and the final score was 38 to 44.
- 26—The sectional elimination began Wednesday instead of Thursday. Results of Wednesday evening games: Metz eliminated by Churubusco and Scott Center by Orland.

- 27—Thursday evening fans assembled to see Spencerville easily defeat the Pleasant Lake Spartans, and Auburn win in an exciting game with St. Joe.
- 28—Friday morning in three one-sided games Fremont won over Ashley, Salem Center succumbed to Angola, and Garrett overwhelmed Waterloo. Friday afternoon in another one-sided game Butler eliminated Hamilton. Churbusco nosed out Orland in the closing minutes, and in the final game of the afternoon, Spencerville eliminated Auburn. Friday evening Fremont unexpectedly upset the Angola Hornets and Garrett easily defeated Butler.

MARCH

- 1—The last day of the tourney! Many tears were shed around the vicinity of Garrett. The Spencerville Red Raiders, recovering from near defeat at the hands of Churbusco in the afternoon, railroaded the Garrett Railroaders to the tune of 38-29.
- 3—Dawn breaks bright and sunny as the fifth six weeks period begins, and visions of diplomas dance in seniors' heads.
- 5—The new Tri-Hi-Y officers were officially broken in at a future strategy meeting.
- 7—The Junior Red Cross received the whole-hearted support of the students of A.H.S.
- 11—We will long remember Elsa Moegle, famed harpist. It was proved that angels are not the only ones who can play harps.
- 26—Six nervous seniors participated in the annual Rotary discussion. This year's topic was "Federal Aid to Education," a very pressing problem.

APRIL

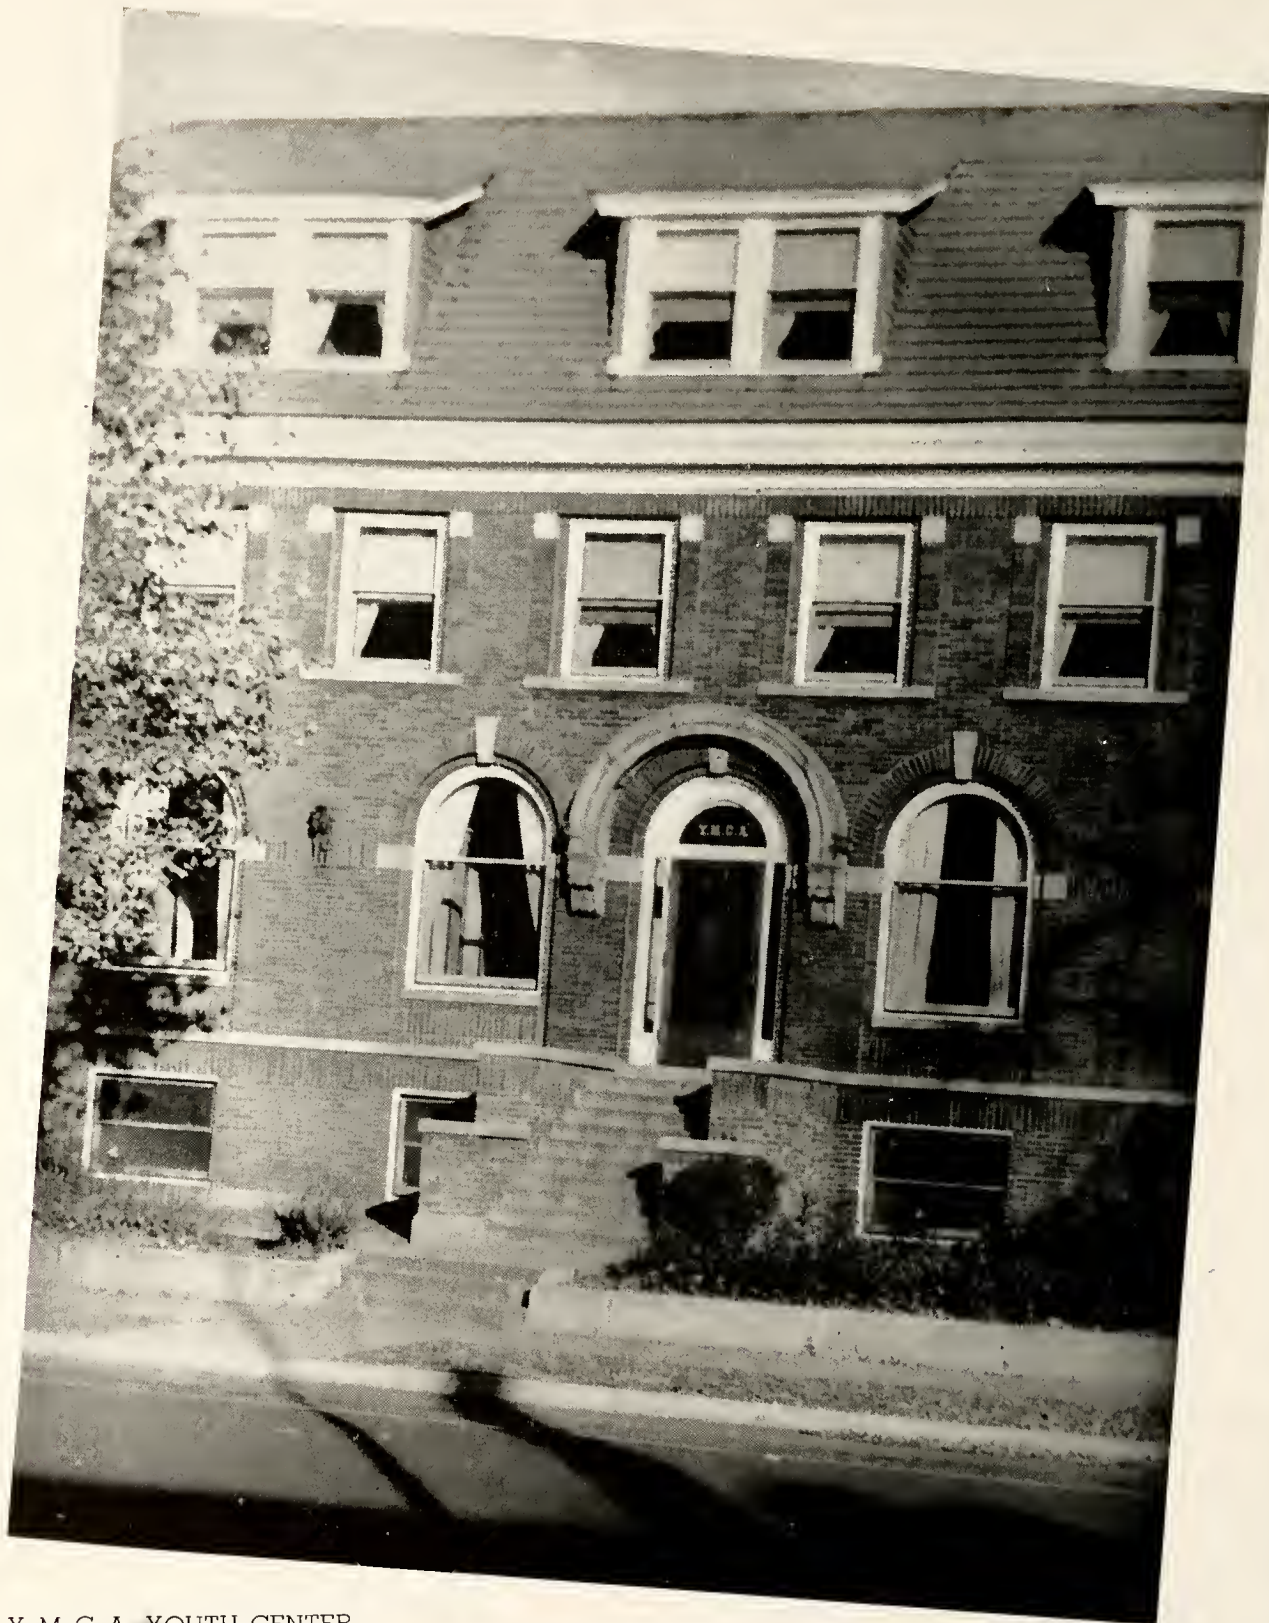

- 2—Today the musicians blew hard. Many of A.H.S.'s band students entered the contest held in Fort Wayne. Darrell Gerig placed in the first division for the cornet solo. Norman Rohm was in the first division also, but in the sousaphone contest. The sophomores produced Jayne Burgoyne, who placed in the third division for her clarinet solo.
- 3—An Easter program was given in an assembly this morning. The chorus, brass sextet, and the clarinet quartet participated.
- 4—Good Friday and our Easter Vacation begins.
- 7—Auburn High is not only out front in athletics, but this year our writers gain fame. Joan Mochamer received first prize and Donald Mefford received second prize in the American Senior Auxiliary Essay contest. The theme was "American Contribution for Permanent Peace."
- 8—The juniors held a class party at the "Y" this evening. They were all out for a good time. At first a few danced, and then the meat of the evening was filled in by bingo.

- 10—The opening track meet was in Auburn today at Earl Carr Memorial Field. Our Red Devils jumped into an early lead and scored slams in two and won first place in nine of the thirteen events. The Comets trailed with a final score of $71\frac{1}{2}$ to $43\frac{1}{2}$. Bill Wattier won double honors by placing first in shot put and pole vault.
- 13—The boys didn't do too well on the cinders this afternoon. In a battle with the Redskins from North Side of Fort Wayne, our opponent came out on top with a score of $81\frac{1}{2}$ to $33\frac{1}{2}$.
- 18—Mr. White of Purdue University spent about a half hour with us today talking about college life.
- 17—The "Hi-Y" sponsored Mr. Coble's appearance in Auburn today. The proceeds go to the Restoration Fund of the Y.M.C.A.
- 20—Today was the day for the Goshen Relays. Plymouth placed first and Garrett took second in the "B" division. We scored $27\frac{1}{2}$ points to place third.
- 27—The Red Devils flashed a come back with an easy victory over Butler. Bill Wattier took three first places, and as usual the team made its best showing in the field events. Things are looking brighter for the Red Devils.
- 29—The G.A.A. held its banquet this evening. A guest speaker from Garrett gave an address. It was quite a swanky affair.

MAY

- 6—A triangular track meet meant an easy victory for the Red Devils. Final scores were Auburn 74, Albion 33, and Waterloo 27.
- 9—Flowers, formals, and good manners predominated at the Junior-Senior banquet. Good food and an entertaining program were provided by the juniors with the seniors and faculty as honored guests.
- 10—Another trophy was added to our already crowded case. The N.E.I.C. track meet was held at Earl Carr Memorial Field, where Auburn commanded the field events. The winning score was 56 points. Garrett was our closest contender.
- 17—In the sectional meet at Fort Wayne, Auburn placed fourth. W. Wattier, J. Hines, and H. Wertman were high scorers.
- 21—Free, but very much bewildered, the seniors entered full adulthood. Commencement, accompanied by much cheek kissing and hand shaking, will long be remembered by the graduates of 1947.
- 24—W. Wattier, J. Hines, and H. Wertman were our representatives at the Indianapolis track meet. W. Wattier placed fifth in the shot put.

EDITORIAL

In presenting the Follies of 1947, the staff has endeavored to make a collection of high school memories. We have had lots of fun creating our book and have tried to make it one that every student will enjoy keeping and referring to time and again as the years roll by.

This year, pictures occupy a major part of our annual. We are grateful to Mr. Davis of the Davis Studio, Auburn, and Mr. Montague of the Fort Wayne Engraving Co., Fort Wayne for taking attractive pictures and helping us arrange them to give the reader greater enjoyment.

Mr. Miller and Miss Duguid deserve our thanks, as they have given freely of their time and advice. Through their aid the staff has untangled many of its problems and corrected many of its mistakes.

Mr. Hachet, Mr. Smith, and the Auburn printing Company should be complimented for putting up with the trial of printing any high school annual. They have been a tremendous help to us.

Last, but not least, we acknowledge the S. K. Smith Co. for its efficiency in making our covers. The work was done not only early, but also very capably.

It is my hope that all who subscribe for the "Follies of 1947" will get as much enjoyment in reading it as the staff did in preparing it for you.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The object of the Girls' Athletic Association is to interest girls in athletics and to standardize and promote high ideals of sportsmanship.

The membership is open to any girl interested in G.A.A. activities.

The officers of G.A.A. are: president, Alice Kieffer; vice president, Ruth Wynne; secretary, Glenda Marsh; and treasurer, Barbara Gonser.

It is possible for a G.A.A. member to get three different awards, her class numerals, her school letter, and the State award, which is a bronze plaque. A girl may receive only one award per year. It takes 150 points to obtain the numerals, 250 points to obtain the school letter, and 350 points to receive the State award.

During the year the girls had two parties. The first was a potluck supper held at the high school gym. The other party was the Spring Banquet held at the Auburn Country Club. All awards were given out at the Spring Banquet.

THE HI-Y

The Hi-Y completed another progressive year by living up to its motto: "To create, maintain and extend throughout the community high standards of Christian character." The aim of the Hi-Y is to encourage youth to strive for clean speech, clean sports, clean living, and clean scholarship.

Those chosen to lead the group for the first semester were Ronald Armstrong, president; Fred Butler, vice president; Joe Kleeman, secretary; Don Mefford, treasurer; and Edgar Grimm, sergeant-at-arms. Mr. Weathers served as club sponsor and Mr. Gene Holdeman served as "Y" adviser.

The Hi-Y is composed of 42 Auburn High School boys. The meetings were held twice a month on Wednesdays at the local Y.M.C.A.

Activities during the year included guest speakers, discussions on everyday problems of youth, and a Hi-Y District Conference held early in the fall. Donald Mefford was elected district president and state secretary. He is the first member of our Auburn Hi-Y to hold a state office. Mr. Weathers was the district Hi-Y sponsor. These two headed this conference.

Movies, potlucks and dances were included in the schedule of social activities.

TRI-HI-Y

This is the third year Tri-Hi-Y has been in existence. After two years of organization, the club really buckled down and made outstanding accomplishments.

The Tri-Hi-Y meets twice a month to discuss its many problems and activities. Its motto is: "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character."

Those chosen to lead the club were: Jane Schooley, president; Barbara Corkwell, vice president; Sally Beerbower, secretary; Geneva Hamman, treasurer; and Nancy Hooker, sergeant-at-arms. Miss Berkeypile remained club sponsor and Mrs. Holdeman "Y" adviser.

One of the first activities of the year was the traditional initiation dance and induction ceremony held for 27 new members, making a total membership of 52. Other functions of the Tri-Hi-Y included serving for the Y.M.C.A. finance campaign and attending the Fine Arts Exhibit held at the Methodist Church. The entire group accepted an invitation to the annual Hi-Y Conference. As a Christmas project, the organization collected and wrapped toys and clothing for the St. Vincent Orphanage at Fort Wayne. Several other activities were the Blue Jean Jump, a potluck supper, a March Whirl, and the Senior Farewell.

Special committees were chosen to organize the various activities during the year.

BAND

Under the able direction of Miss Eleanor M. Cecil, the band added to the festivities at the football and basketball games and at pep sessions this year. Last fall it performed at the fair and this spring, with the cooperation of the choruses, an excellent spring music festival was presented. By a merit system which was introduced this year and a challenge system whereby players work up to higher positions, the band has progressed very rapidly.

The officers chosen this year were, Darrell Gerig, president; Joe Kleeman, vice president; Jane Schooley, secretary; Herbert Wertman, treasurer; Dale Sink, librarian; and Norman Rohm, sergeant-at-arms.

C H O R U S

Miss Guyneth Hewitt has accomplished much during her first year here at Auburn High. The girls' chorus has performed at the Christmas program, the Freshmen Reception, the Easter program, and the Spring Music Festival. They also have worked very hard to put on an operetta, "An Old Kentucky Garden." Miss Hewitt has developed several fine soloists, among them the two seniors, Darrell Gerig and Joyce Engle. The accompaniment was nicely taken care of by Jane Schooley and Elizabeth Carper.

This year a boys' chorus was reintroduced, and it has proved the melodic ability of several of our boys. We hope Miss Hewitt will continue her fine work in the future.

THE INTERSCHOLASTIC GROUP

"Hats off" to the interscholastic group, for it is one to which Auburn High School owes tribute. It includes those who entered into competition with other schools and won either first, second, or third prizes.

The Art honors were shared by Carol Kessler, Don Butler, Patsy Dietrich, Nancy Western, Nancy Baker, and Joan Garns.

Auburn High School's prize-winning poets were Bob Scott and Jack Mochamer.

For the best penmanship, essays, and business letters, prizes were awarded Jane Griffith, Robert Manon, Donna Hay, Patricia Haines, Nancy Western, Carol Cooper, Phyllis Bennett, Marilyn Peters, Frances Stafford, Barbara Lewis, David Carmer, Wilmer Watson, Don Mefford, Betty Haggerty, Suzanne Weathers, Ruth Wynne, Helen Grimm, Gladys Smith and Glenda Marsh.

JUNIOR - SENIOR PLAY — THE WHOLE TOWN'S TALKING

The Whole Town's Talking was given Nov. 13, 14 and 15 to a very large audience. Miss Norton, our speech teacher, very adeptly directed the play and turned it into a great success.

This play was a comedy of family life, rich in humor and the tricks that life plays on one. It deals with the transformation of a middle aged man into a supposed Casanova. The ugly duckling was changed into a fairly presentable swain to win his girl.

The scene of the play was the living room of the Simmons home. Ethel, the Simmons' only child, has just returned from Chicago as a very sophisticated young lady. Chester Binney was the man after Ethel's heart, and also Mr. Simmons' business partner. Roger Shields, a young Chicago blue blood, brought Ethel home and provided competition for Chester Binney. To get Ethel to fall for Chester, Mr. Simmons bought new clothes for him and made up a fake love affair with Letty Lythe, a movie star. The news of Chester's love affair was spread around town by Ethel's girl friends, Lila Wilson and Sally Otis. The next door neighbor, Mrs. Jackson, also helped the scandalous tidbit to circulate. Anna, the new maid, knew about the affair, but was pledged to secrecy. The scandal was soon broken up by the appearance of Letty Lythe and her boy friend, Donald Swift, a motion picture director. To make the situation worse, Mr. Simmons, unknown to his wife, was taking dancing from Sadie Bloom, a cheap, rowdy person. One evening after his lesson, Sadie left her purse in the taxi they had shared because of rain. The taxi driver brought the purse to the Simmons home next day, but Mr. Simmons was gone. Mrs. Simmons hid the purse so her husband would not know about it, and one day Sadie came to the house and made a scene until they gave it to her. When Mrs. Simmons produced the purse, Mr. Simmons was astonished; then he told his wife about the dancing lessons. When Ethel learned the love affair between Letty Lythe and Chester was a fake, she decided she loved the transformed Chet whether he had been a man of the world or not.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The F.F.A. was reorganized again under the supervision of Mr. Gross, our new Agriculture teacher. There were seventeen members in the F.F.A. The officers were: Paul Post, president; Vernon Scott, vice-president; Clayton Myers, secretary; Russell Snyder, treasurer; and Richard Blevins, reporter.

The Agriculture classes participated in two 4-H shows. Some of the projects shown were corn, dairy, poultry, pigs, potatoes, and vegetables.

The freshman-sophomore class has an enrollment of ten boys. The agriculture classes study field crops, horticulture, animal husbandry, and farm manangement.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

This year there are 26 members in the Home Economics Club. Its membership is made up of those girls who are enrolled in this year's home economics class and those who have had high school home economics for one year. The Auburn club is an integral part of the National Future Homemakers of America. The officers chosen were Delora Peters, president; Marjorie Courtney, vice president; Della Horn, secretary-treasurer; Eunice Jones, candy manage; Gladys Smith, assistant candy manager; and Shirley Wolff, news reporter. Their meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month. After the sale of war stamps and bonds was discontinued, the girls, as an annual project, remodled the bedroom in the home economics department. Some special events of the year were parties, dances, and talks on subjects relative to home economics. This year the club was sponsored by the new teacher, Miss Helen Butler, a graduate of Ball State Teachers' College.

TEEN - Y

This new club was organized for the freshman and sophomore girls of Auburn High School.

The Teen-Y much like the Tri-Hi-Y has for its purpose the betterment of Christian character and moral standards. The club has forty-two enthusiastic members.

For the school year '46 and '47 semesters they elected Elizabeth Carper, president; Nancy Baker, vice-president; Norma Musser, secretary; Nancy Western, treasurer; and Patricia Haynes, sergeant-at-arms. They chose Miss Virginia Russel, physical education teacher, as the club sponsor and Mrs. Holdeman as "Y" adviser.

The club met twice a month and discussed the problems of youth and various points of interest at that time.

Activities during the year included serving at the Y.M.C.A. during the Y conference and attending the Fine Arts Exhibit at the Methodist Church. Toys and clothing were collected and wrapped for a Fort Wayne Orphanage as a Christmas project. Early in the fall a hayride and wiener roast were enjoyed by all.

Athletics

AUBURN ATHLET

The Auburn Athletic Association, better known as A.A.A., chose Vito Palumbo for president and Joyce Engle as secretary. Mr. Miller, our principal, officially manages the association, and Miss Wood acts as faculty treasurer. The association is made up of squad members, band members, managers, yell leaders, and season ticket holders. The purpose of this organization is to pep up Auburn High's athletic enthusiasm and participation.

Norman Rohm, track manager, and Robert Shugart, football manager, were under Coach Young's direction.

Football

The rise of athletics at McIntosh High School is now complete. The N.E.I. conference championship in football gives our school more honors in the many inter-high school sports than any other school.

Coach "Zeke" Young often said that the 1946 men were exceptionally spirited and compatible, which usually goes with such a galaxy of stars as he had assembled.

The Auburn Red Devils successfully opened the current football season on September 7, 1946, when they ran roughshod over the Columbia City Eagles in an N.E.I.C. game. The final score was 39 to 12, giving the locals revenge for last year's defeat. On September 13 the Red Devils played one of the best games in the history of A.H.S. It took a Friday-the-thirteenth to help the Auburn squad break the four-year jinx the Warsaw Tigers had held over them. In this N.E.I.C. game, the Tigers fell before the McIntosh eleven at Earl Carr Memorial Field, and the final score was 24 to 20. The Auburn team rolled up another N.E.I.C. victory September 21. Coach Young used everyone but the waterboy against the Decatur Yellowjackets at Earl Carr Memorial Field, Friday night, as the Red Devils rolled up a 57 to 7 score. Forty-six, boys, over four complete teams, entered the lineup for the locals. On

You tell 'em, Zeke!

Hi, fellas!

The squads get instructions.

Nice kick!

Lovely bus, isn't it?

Our boy, "Snipe"

Someone lost a foot.

"Snipe," you really get around!

What's so funny?

Who taught him to read?

Last-minute review.

September 28 the Red Devils fought off a determined rally by the Bluffton Tigers and walked off the field with a 13 to 7 N.E.I.C. victory at Bluffton. The Red Devils had little trouble chalking up their fifth straight victory of the season against the Hartford City Airdales on October 5, at Auburn, with a score of 38 to 7. The Red Devils won their sixth game on October 12. The boys proved themselves mudders in every sense of the word at Bryan, Ohio. At the end of the game the score was, Auburn 32, Bryan 12. Again the Red Devils plowed through mud at New Haven to come out with their seventh straight victory. Auburn came out on top of this N.E.I.C. game with a score of 40 to 0 over the Bulldogs. The 1946 football season was brought to a glorious close Wednesday evening, October 23, when the Auburn Red Devils defeated their arch rivals, the Garrett Railroaders, on their own field by a score of 25 to 19. In addition, the Red Devils gave their ailing coach, "Zeke" Young, who witnessed the game from his automobile in the end zone, another Indiana conference championship cup to add to the already bulging trophy case at McIntosh High School. It was the eighth straight victory for the Red Devils in as many games, and for the first time the McIntosh High School went undefeated and untied.

Five members of the Auburn squad were named on the all-conference team. They were G. Beaty, J. Lochner, R. Armstrong, H. Wertman, and F. Butler. One of A.H.S.'s outstanding stellar guards, Vito Palumbo, was named all-state guard by the Indianapolis News sports staff.

Basketball

As past seasons show, Coach Showalter picked out the toughest schedule Auburn ever had. With his outlook optimistic because of returning veterans, Mr. Showalter looked forward to a successful season.

The Auburn Red Devils opened the 1946 season with a 46-33 victory over the Butler Windmills. On November 22 the Red Devils fought off a determined rally by the Central Catholic Irish at the Alumni gymnasium to send the Fort Wayne team home on the short end of a 38-32 score. On November 23 Auburn came up with its best rally of the season Saturday night to humble the Wabash Apaches 44 to 40. The Red Devils staged some sensational ball hawking in the last two minutes to snatch the game away from a victory-hungry group of Apaches. On November 27 a power-packed Muncie Central team dropped the Auburn Red Devils from Indiana's undefeated basketball ranks with a score of 51 to 36. The Auburn Red Devils defeated the Hornets at Angola 47-43 on November 30.

On December 6 the Auburn Red Devils found the South Side Archers of Fort Wayne too hot to handle. Auburn was beaten for the second time 47 to 36. December 13 was the night Auburn won a thrilling see-saw battle from the New Haven Bulldogs by the score of 39 to 35. It was the first N.E.I.C. game for the Red Devils. On December 20 the Garrett Railroaders came up as usual with their best game of the season by upsetting the Auburn Red Devils by a score of 37 to 36. It was a thrilling finish to the N.E.I.C. game.

On January 1 Auburn traveled to Huntington to come out for the second consecutive year third best in the New Year's invitational tournament. The Devils came up with a good battle against the Vikings in the first game, but the Norsemen had too much height and won 47 to 41. The Red Devils won the consolation game with the Wabash Apaches 39 to 26. On January 10 the Cenral Tigers were hot enough to win 60 to 52. On January 11 the Red Devils lost to the Elkhart Blue Blazers at the Alumni gymnasium 37 to 28. On January 17 a howling pack of Kendallville fans loosened the rafters of their gymnasium as the favored Comets took a one-point lead while the clock showed less than a minute to go. In the last fifteen seconds, the Red Devils put us over the top, 35 to 34. On January 24 the Warsaw team kept the Red Devils behind in spite of a last quarter rally. The score was, Auburn 32, Warsaw 34. On January 31 the Red Devils held down the Decatur Yellow Jackets as they attempted to win the N.E.I.C. game. Auburn came out on top 43 to 39.

On February 1 Mishawaka put on a red hot last period rally and blasted the Red Devils' lead. The Cavemen won 34 to 30. On February 7 the Columbia City Eagles won a rough-and-tumble N.E.I.C. contest at the Alumni gymnasium 47 to 40. On February 14 Auburn found the Hartford City Airdales full of revenge, and the locals came home on the short end of a 46 to 34 score. On February 21 the locals came up with a great game at Bluffton to whip the Tigers 35 to 32. On February 22 Auburn failed to finish the season sucessfully. The Fort Wayne Redskins won our final contest 44 to 38.

The Auburn squad was composed of F. Butler, R. Armstrong, W. Cox, E. Beaty, E. Grimm, J. Bower, H. Wertman, B. Scott, D. Smolinske, and W. Muzzillo. The following boys received sweaters: R. Armstrong, G. Beaty, W. Muzzillo, and H. Wertman.

The Reserves

This year the reserves were divided into two groups, the Imps and the Freshman team.

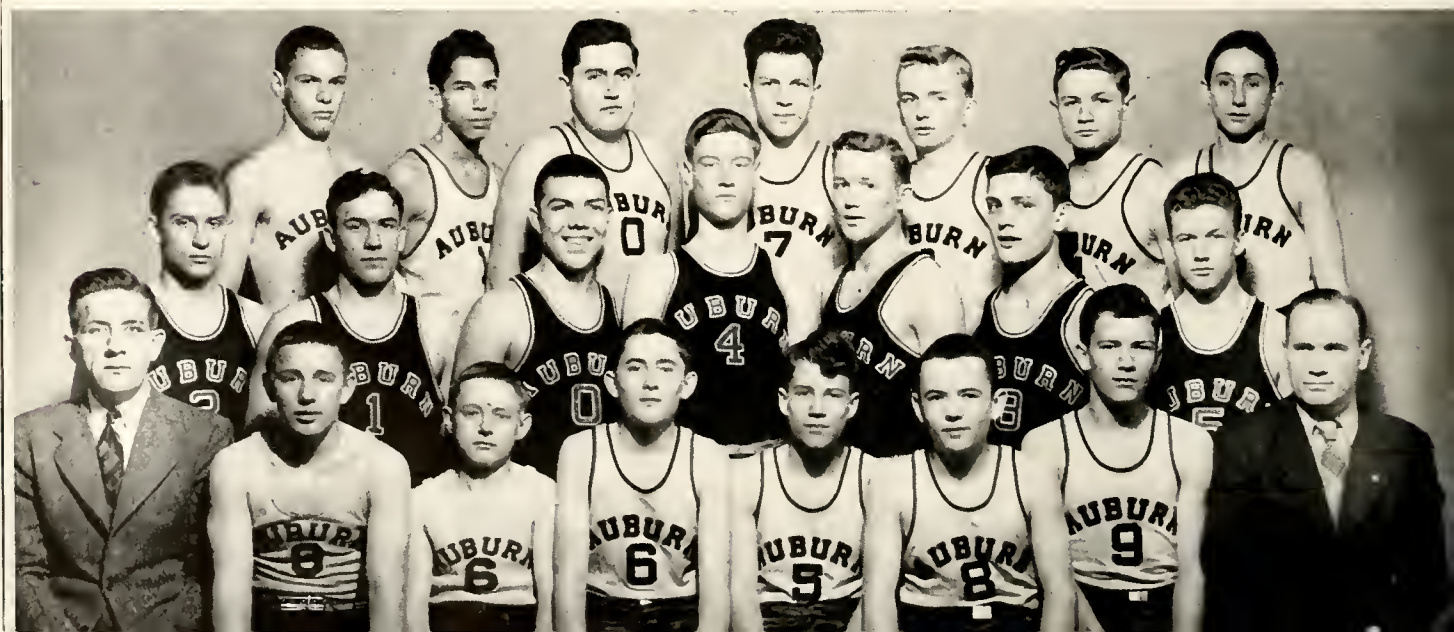

This year's Imps were composed of sophomores only. Because of their ability and speed, they came over the top as usual, winning 10 games and losing 8. The team was under the coaching of Coach James Gross.

The freshman basketball team, under the direction of Coach "Zeke" Young, showed the local fans their determination and ability to hold their own in the field of sports. The '46-'47 squad was composed of D. Kelly, R. Wertenberger, B. Beers, T. Webb, S. Muzzillo, T. Miller, H. Western, R. McComb, R. Freeman, J. Swalley, D. Ransburg, and R. Bates.

Third Row: J. Bender, S. Muzzillo, T. Webb, B. Beers, D. Kelley, R. McComb, R. Wertenberger.

Second Row: D. Butler, C. Myers, D. Derrow, J. Schooley, K. McInturf, T. Magnuson, C. Shoudel.

First Row: Mr. Gross, R. Freeman, J. Swalley, H. Western, D. Ransburg, T. Miller, R. Bates, Mr. Young.

Noon League Basketball

Under the supervision of Coach "Zeke" Young, the noon league basketball games gave the student body exciting moments during the noon hour.

James "Neut" Donaldson came out on top with sensational victories. The team was composed of J. Donaldson, D. Billings, M. Reynolds, R. Wertenberger, D. Shambaugh, G. Walker, and E. Quinn.

Track

After several weeks of hard work, the Auburn team was ready to face any opposition offered. With several veterans and a host of promising boys, "Zeke" looked forward to a successful season.

On April 10 the Auburn track team opened its 1946 track season with a $71\frac{1}{2}$ to $43\frac{1}{2}$ victory over the Kendallville Comets. The Red Devils traveled to North Side on April 12 and received their worst defeat of the season with North Side pulling down $79\frac{1}{2}$ to Auburn's $29\frac{1}{2}$. April 16 was the day of the triangular track meet, with South Side, Garrett, and Auburn participating. Final scores were, South Side 64, Auburn $29\frac{1}{2}$, and Garrett $23\frac{1}{2}$. In the Goshen relays the Red Devils came in third with $27\frac{1}{2}$ points.

The Auburn squad swamped the Butler Windmills April 23 with a score of 78 to 37, and Bill Wattier took three firsts in his specialties. April 30 was a sad day for Central Catholic, as the Red Devils defeated their team 61 to 47. That day Bill Wattier tossed the shot 47 feet 5 inches. In the Kokomo relays the Auburn Red Devils chalked up $23\frac{1}{2}$ points, coming in second. Leading the Auburn squad, Hines and Wattier took first place in the pole vault and high jump. In a triangular meet on May 6, the Red Devils buried Albion's 33 points and Waterloo's 27 under a 74-point total of their own.

In the N.E.I.C. track meet at Auburn, we repelled a determined bid of the Garrett Railroaders and the Warsaw Tigers in the closing events. The Red Devils scored 56 against $53\frac{1}{2}$ for Garrett and $48\frac{1}{2}$ for Warsaw. Herb Wertman set a new conference record in the pole vault with a height of 11 feet 2 inches. On May 17 in the sectional track meet at North Side, Auburn placed fourth with 11 points. On May 24, J. Hines, B. Wattier, and H. Wertman represented Auburn in the state meet at Indianapolis. Bill Wattier received fifth place in the shot put event.

It was a warm autumn evening when Harry "Slugger" Balzer and Dick "One Eye" Hathaway went for the following escapade at the roadhouse on the outskirts of a coal blacked town called Blewernose. The name of the roadhouse went with and matched the little town's name—it was known as The Blewertop. (Very cute, don't you think?)

Blewertop was the hangout of all the ruffians, and was owned by the three Scalpum Indian brothers, Me Scalpum, I Scalpum, and No You Scalpum. Blewertop was known for its live o'clock shadow faced characters who appeared every night shortly after the banks closed. They met here with their gangs and did their evening bank shopping later. Blewertop received its reputation from an incident that happened four years ago.

It was four years ago today, "Slugger" and "One Eye" and their gang held up the Blewernose Piggy Bank. The two of them and the seven members of their gang met at Blewertop at midnight and headed for town. They had everything planned to the very minute and second. Gus was to look for the town crier and when he saw him coming he was to cry. "Snipe" was to light the dynamite to blow the safe open. "Doc" was to carry the cannon to protect the gang. The other four of the gang were to carry the loot out to the pack horses. They arrived at the edge of town four minutes after midnight.

"Whoa," said "One Eye" and "Slugger" when they arrived near Blewernose.

"Giddap," yelled the gang to "One Eye" and "Slugger."

"Wait a minute, you ruffians," said "Slugger", "'One Eye' and myself are going to stay out here while seven of you go into town and get the money. 'We'll wait for you. If anything happened to us, you wouldn't have much of a gang left, because we're the brains."

"Well, all right," replied Gus, "if that's the way you want it, that's the way it will have to be." And they rode off.

"What they don't know won't hurt them. If anything happens to them they won't need any brains. And anyway, we ain't got no brains, have we?" "Slugger" asked "One Eye." "I guess we pulled the wool over their eyes that time. They think we have brains, ha, ha, ha!"

The scene now shifts to the bank. Gus is on his hands and knees in front of the bank, waiting for the town crier. "Psst, 'Snipe,' don't get so close to me with that dynamite. You're as nervous as a fly with the DDT's, and I don't trust you now, especially to stand this close to you, so move away," whispered Gus.

"Aw, why don't you close your trap. It's gettin' windy. So quit crabbin' for a while," snarled "Snipe." "You're not too calm yourself."

"Well, if you both don't shut up, you'll have the whole town on our necks, and the first thing we would know is we would be in the jug," "Doc" angrily butted in.

By this time it was time for the town crier. Gus had it timed right to the minute. He was to hit the town crier over the head and finish what he had started crying.

Gus crouched low and was ready to spring. The town crier was opening his mouth to yell. Gus gave a leap. He hit the town crier with all his force and might. The town crier yelled, "Ouch." Gus, following instructions, finished what the town crier had started to say, and yelled like bloody murder, "That hurt."

Naturally, this woke the townspeople up, knowing something was wrong. They started on the run, heading for the place that the noise came from. The members of the gang didn't realize what was wrong until they saw the townspeople and sheriff coming down the street after them. "Snipe" already had lit the dynamite, but instead of dropping it, he started on the run with the dynamite still in his hand.

The gang started running out of town yelling at the top of their voices, warning "One Eye" and "Slugger" that they were being chased.

Suddenly "Snipe" realized that he had the dynamite in his hand. He threw it and the sheriff, who was a woman, Hope Burgoyne, caught it as it went off. That's how the roadhouse got its name, "Blewertop."

When the sheriff blewertop, this made the townspeople very angry. They went back into town and formed a posse and started trailing the gang at once.

The trail ended at the roadhouse. When they arrived, they crawled up to the windows of the building so they could hear what was going on.

The scene now shifts again, back to the roadhouse when the gang first got back. When they arrived, the gang discovered to their dismay that some of their jewels and trinkets were missing. Right away they started accusing the Scalpum brothers of swiping them. The Indian brothers denied it and blamed each other. Just as they started blaming it on each other, the townspeople reached the windows, and this is what they heard:

"I Scalpum." "Me Scalpum." "No You Scalpum."

Right away they reached the conclusion that there were Indians after them, and they started on the run.

Ever since that day, it has been avoided by all sheriffs and all the neighboring city folks.

So this fine fair night, as we listen in on "One Eye" and "Slugger" we can hear them give a little chuckle over the thought of four years ago, how the Indians had saved their lives, by bickering.

PROPHECY

Hello, everybody. This is a wonderful night for a Christmas Eve, isn't it? The snow is lying in blankets of white. Everything is shawled in snow. It is the time of year when the children stop, look, and glisten. Yes, you have guessed, it is Christmas Eve. It is the year of 1957 and the class of '47 is meeting for a Christmas Eve party. They have come back from all parts of the country and some even have come home from all parts of the world, just for this happy brawl tonight. I'm jotting down a few things about what the class members of '47 have made themselves, while they open their small packages.

Among the first to open his package was Bud Armstrong. He has just been mustered out of the Army, where he was known as Major. He owns the chain store, "Armstrong & Hammer" or the A & H. He is returning to his business and will reside with his newly wed wife, a Ubangi native from Mid-Africa, at Los Angeles.

Beryl Baughman opened her packages next. She is a model—you thought I was going to stop there, didn't you? I was going to say she is a model housewife.

Chuck Baber, a deacon of the Christian Missionary in North Africa, arrived home just a week ago for the Christmas holidays. He is known all over for his missionary work.

Norman Gearhart, who has been dreaming of a white shirt Christmas, has a very good business as diamond cutter in Reno. He doesn't believe in the saying "It's better to say no than Reno."

Carolyn Cooper owns The Garrett Hash House, famous for its hash sling. She makes the hash and slings it at you.

We have a wonderful, carefree person with us tonight, Jim Donaldson, who patented his idea of How to Get Through School Without Working, and has become a millionaire.

Geneva Hamman was seen in a downtown drugstore blushing. A salesman hired her and has been using her as a neon sign to advertise "Pop's Cigars." He let her down for tonight.

Bob Shuherk, otherwise known as "Red," is a farmer. He has a chicken farm and raises young chicks the way he wants them.

Gene Beaty, Russ Chorpenning, and Dave Carmer stuck together in the outside world as they always did in school. They are co-owners of a chain mill, "Hank's, Dave's & Russ' Hard and Sweet Cider, You Bring Um, We Squeeze Um (Apples, That Is) Incorporated."

Jane Schooley, still a brilliant redhead, has opened a school just for redheads. Although redheads have a temper, there hasn't been a murder there for three days.

Bud Bassett has a curly sort of business. He is a beauty operator in Indianapolis. He manufactures the "Bud, We Curl 'Um Basset, Incorporated" beauty kit.

Dick Bauer is the owner of our Sunny Sun Shine Cow's Milk Dairy in this city. His motto is "Try a bottle —of milk."

Bob Derrow, now owner of the Moonlight Bay, is getting quite a reputation for the songs that he requests for his many girl friends.

Wayne Muzzillo, who disliked the fuzz on the peach, has concocted some way to get rid of the fuzz before eating it. His new nickname is "Fuzz Muzz."

Barbara Corkwell has a new patented idea of how to lose weight. One of her customers is a certain "Canonball" of the class. Don't tell her the formula, Barbara. Barb is quite rich from her ideas.

Juanita Worth is trying to uphold her last name. Like Mary Worth, of the comics, Juanita can be seen on the corner selling apples.

The forever foursome of A.H.S. is still together in Hollywood. They are the well known beautiful Four Blonde Bardiers, Mary Ann Quance, Marilyn Peters, Marcile Haynes, no Joyce Engle. (I bet'cha can't guess who wrote this.) They all are in the punk of condition.

Nancy Hooker was smart and married a banker. It was definitely a case of love at purse sight. We hope she doesn't get too many forget-me-notes now.

Wilma Humbert, who became a very successful housewife, also has made a little something of her name. She is very humble to her husband. Very different from some of the girls, who have made their husbands humble to them.

Janet Potter also has made something of her name. She is in the little pottery business. Yes, she too is a housewife. She met a very nice Mexican, married him, and they moved to Mexico, where they are selling, and throwing, pots and pans.

Charles Wurm has become a very handsome and dignified congressman of our district. I guess Mr. Weathers' class helped somebody.

Paul Post and Wilmer Watson have gone into business together. They are the defective detectives of Auburn. They look like Mutt & Jeff, or better yet, Hawkshaw and Watson.

Edward Strauss can not only make himself disappear or come up missing, but he can make other things disappear. Yes, he is now a Second Mandrake. Watch your step, he isn't quite good enough yet to saw you in two without sawing you in two.

There is something fishy about Russell Snyder's occupation. Maybe it is because he does something fishy. Maybe you have guessed it by now, but he sells fish bait at the North End Market for Worms.

Marjorie Buckholtz is also another movie star, but is a little different from most of the others. Most of them monopolize from their last name, but Marjorie who is different has to have a song and a movie written about her. She is really getting up there.

Don Mefford is a saw bones. He is a great surgeon of our county. (I mean country.) He is in and out of the newspapers like a fiddler's elbow.

Vito Pafumbo is playing three different positions on the All-American football team. He is guard, right and out. He guards the water buckets, plays half right, and is left out most of the time.

Ervin Patrick has organized a windy club. You may have your ideas and think it is a Liar's Club, but it isn't. It's a Tuba Blower's Club. (That one was rather breezy, wasn't it?)

Sara Showers is head of the local weather bureau. Her latest report today was that there were to be heavy snows, followed by little boys with sleds.

The Smith twins, Barbara and Betty, own the only Smith Lunch Wagon in the United States. As a side line, they also run the super-duper twin bed company.

Susan Wertenberger has a great enterprise on her hands. She is the chief burger maker for Wimpy. Her latest sandwiches are the Wertenbergerbergers. (This could go on forever.)

Dick Kraus came to this party tonight all the way from Hamburg, Germany, where he makes sauerkraus, I mean sauerkraut. He has quite a big business. By the way, do you know what he makes sauerkraut out of? Cabbage.

Pat Culbertson is in the hardware business. It is really the darnin' business. You see she darns socks and they have to be under hardwear before they get a hole in them. She is quite popular among the family men because of this.

Rosalie Haiffich believed in the proverb of making hay while the sun shines, and she did that very thing, only she twisted the thing around a bit. You see, they were walking in a woods, it rained, it stormed, it thundered, it lightnined, she screamed, she grabbed him, he grabbed her, they grabbed each other. She changed her maiden name. See what I mean?

Bob Shugart has taken over the plumbing business for his Dad. Bob always lived in Auburn, and never did he get out on a farm until he was 17 years of age. One day he went to the farm and saw a cow. Right away he said, "Look at all that plumbing and no sink." Ever since that day he has been interested in this occupation.

Vernon Scott is well known among the high school boys of Auburn High School. He manufactures Scott's wines. It isn't very powerful stuff. I think he calls it silage, or something like that.

The Insane Asylum has let Herbie Wertman out for this party. He went batty a couple years ago trying to figure out some way of telling when the cops were around when a stop street was ahead. He found the answer, but too late. Always stop, look, and listen before crossing the street.

Hope Burgoyne has become a Hollywood pick-up reporter. What I mean is that she picks up fragments of news. Her latest survey proves that Hollywood brides keep the bouquets and throw away the grooms.

Darrell Gerig who is on a tour with his Philharmonic Orchestra, arrived here at the last minute. He was to open at Garrett tonight, but called it off and will open there tomorrow night, which will throw his schedule off for a week. His tour will include all the larger towns of Indiana. Like Waterloo, Ashley, Salem Center, Altona, and many others.

Sally Beerbower and Phyllis Bennett have organized themselves into a musical company. Sally writes the words and Phyllis writes the music. Their latest hit is "Hit Him Again, Richard."

Delores Ranney and her "Seven We Dood Its," an accordion all-nut orchestra, is usually on a USO tour, but it was in the U. S. and Delores was able to make it here this evening.

Norma Heffley has turned out to be what she was born. A girl. Nobody was satisfied with the quiet Auburn life but Norma. She has a small farm of her own and has a bachelor on the string. Don't tell a soul, but this happy prospect happens to be the handsome Guy Madison.

Janice Kelfer and Mary Kessler, who both enjoy excitement, have become African explorers. They've married five times apiece, but they never were satisfied with their husbands, and soon divorced them. We hear they will start hunting again soon.

Estelle Purdy, who is a purdy chick, and Jo Mochamer, who isn't so bad, are the career women of our class. They work together in the Wall Street Offices in New York city. They have a very hard boss, none other than Carolyn Kokenge. Carolyn has been a success at experimenting and discovering a new "Koke" drink. Take it from me, it is delicious, hic.

Last but not least are Leora Tobey and Maxine Val-lieu, who are working women. They are scrubwomen in the Wall Street Offices. Every night after work you can see them on their hands and knees scrubbing the floors. They enjoy it very much though. They think it's great fun, even the walls are plastered.

Well, folks, I guess that's all the gifts there are here tonight. You have heard what has happened to all your classmates, and you probably are wondering who I am. Well, I'm that friendly old gentleman who comes around every year at this time. Yes, I'm Santa Claus. I'm the old gent who gives everything and takes nothing from anybody. But in civilian life I'm known as Norman Rohm.

DREAM ON

One broken dream is not the end of dreaming;

And shattered hope is not the end of hoping;

Beyond the storm and tempest,
stars are gleaming;

Still build your castles, tho' your castles fall.

Though many dreams came tumbling to disaster,

And pain and heartache meet you down the years,

Still keep your faith, your hopes to master,

And never cry that you have ceased to dream.

A Message To A Future Executive Of Auburn Rubber

Somewhere in the Class of 1947 are men and women who will, in a few short years, be the professional and business leaders of Auburn.

Because we at Auburn Rubber are proud of our place in this community, we are naturally interested in those who are preparing themselves to accept the responsibility of business and civic leadership.

Because you are young, you will often be discouraged because the "old folks" won't take your ideas as seriously as you would like. But persistent courage, imagination and enthusiasm will open opportunities today as surely as they have since time began. No generation lacks for "New Frontiers."

Auburn Rubber—our town—our country—the entire world needs a constant flow of new ideas and abilities. We're all counting on you to supply them.

Jack Mochamer: I had a very stubborn horse today. I wanted to go one way; he wanted to go another—so he tossed me for it.

Jim Schooley: Do you think I'm a fool?

Jane Schooley: No, but what's my opinion against thousands of others?

Mr. Showalter: Where's the Red Sea?

Ted Magnuson: On the third line of my report card.

THIS IS THE . . .

PREAMBLE TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes:

To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred percent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our associations in the Great Wars; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.
